Ousted Bishop Denies Spying

VIENNA, Austria.—(P)—Bishop Gerald Patrick O'Hara of Savannah, Ga., expelled from Romania on spy charges, arrived here today and declared Communist accusations against him were "false from start to finish."

O'Hara, Vatican diplomatic representative in Bucharest since early 1947, was accompanied by two members of his staff, Msgr. John Kirk of Athens, Ga., his secretary, and Msgr. Guido Del Mestri.

Though reluctant to discuss the Communist Romanian government's charges against him, O'Hara said he and his Catholic colleagues "had no interest in military or commercial information as they changed."

"Our sole interest was the welfare of the church. For that we work and for nothing else," he declared, adding that he was sorry to leave Romania.

The Bishop said he would report to the Vatican and then return to "good old Georgia."

Michigan Prepared To Induct 46,000

LANSING.—(P)—Michigan can induct 46,000 men between the ages of 19 and 26 into the armed forces on a moment's notice.

That's the report of Lt. Col. Arthur A. Holmes, deputy state selective service commissioner, who said today the state's draft machinery is geared and ready to go. The draft headquarters, Col. Holmes said, has had no notice or interpretation of yesterday's federal announcement that the nation's military organization is to be brought to war strength.

Officially on a stand-by and part-time basis, Michigan's draft boards have systematically registered 460,000 men and classified 281,000 of them, Col. Holmes reported.

The state has an estimated 425,000 of draft age—19 to 26.

Of the 281,000 classified, Col. Holmes said, 46,000 are in Class 1-A and eligible for immediate call to induction stations for physical examinations.

Another 116,000 are World War II veterans and exempt from the draft under existing laws. Seventy thousand have passed the top draft age of 26 since they registered.

Extended GI Bill Proposed

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
WASHINGTON.—(P)—Extension of the G. I. Bill of Rights to all United States military personnel engaged in the Korean fighting may be considered by the House Veterans committee next week.

Most of the bill's major provisions granting benefits to servicemen apply only to those who saw service during World War II. Many of the men now in Korea—or bound there—enlisted relatively recently.

The G. I. bill provided for federal home loans, unemployment compensation and education grants. But those benefits do not apply to men who went into service recently or who will go into service in the future.

A provision granting unemployment payments of $20 weekly for 52 weeks ended last July 25. The provision for government-paid education still is in effect for some veterans, but not for new servicemen. The provision to help veterans buy homes on relatively easy terms doesn't apply to new inductees because they are not classified as World War II veterans.

United Nations Sets Up Office In Korea

TOKYO.—(P)—The United Nations commission on Korea will set up headquarters in the south-east Korean port of Pusan, Col. A. G. Katzin, personal representative of Secretary General Trygve Lie said today.

The commission will establish military liaison with the government of South Korea. Two United Nations military observers will constitute the liaison for the present, Katzin said.

The commission was established by the United Nations in an attempt to bring about unification of the Communist north and the U. S.-sponsored government of the south.

Draft Law Put In Effect To Speed Up Enlistments

'One Package' Money Bill Up Before Senate

Measure Calls For $34,700,000,000

By OLIVER DEWOLF
WASHINGTON.—(P)—The Senate Appropriations committee appeared ready today to send a $34,700,000,000 "one package" money bill to the Senate early next week.

The committee completed action on the spending items of the bulky bill—which will finance virtually all federal agencies during the year which started July 1—in an all-day session yesterday.

Some slight revisions were possible today. The committee called another meeting to work out a plan to make even deeper cuts in the budget through restrictions on the personnel, travel and other allowances of executive agencies.

The figure agreed upon includes $32,500,000,000 in cash, and $2,200,000,000 in contract authority—about a $1,500,000,000 slash in President Truman's request for $36,161,000,000 for the 1951 fiscal year.

Biggest item in the bill is $12,294,000,000 for the defense establishment. This compared with the $13,376,000,000 originally asked by the administration, and the $12,910,000,000 voted by the House before receiving the supplemental request.

The defense establishment also got $1,385,000,000 in contract authority in the Senate bill. This is authority to contract for purchases up to that amount which will be paid for out of later appropriations.

The second largest cash item was $6,017,000,000 set aside for the independent offices, including the veterans administration, which receives more than $5,000,000,000 of the total. The amount requested was $3,466,982,724, a cut of nearly $500,000,000.

Government Seizes Rock Island Railway

CHICAGO.—(P)—Francis A. O'Neill of the National Railway Mediation Board said today that the striking Switchmen's Union has refused to send its men back to work on the basis of the government's seizure order as it presently exists.

WASHINGTON.—(P)—President Truman today ordered seizure of the strike-bound Rock Island railroad and directed the army to run it for the government. Government seizure is "imperative" in view of the strike by the switchmen's union to protect the national defense and security of the nation, Mr. Truman said.

The President acted in the face of a proposal from the strikers which the union said may "dispose of our dispute." The union proposal, reported in Chicago, was not made public.

Mr. Truman called on every employee to return to his job and added:

"I call upon the officers of the switchmen's union of North America and such other labor organizations which may be affected to take appropriate action to keep their members at work."

The switchmen had called off

Broken Brake Blamed For Santa Fe Wreck Which Took 9 Lives

MONICA, Ill.—(P)—A broken brake is said by Santa Fe railway officials to have caused a train wreck that killed nine persons Thursday.

They said a casting, a piece of brake rigging, broke loose from the rear car of the El Capitán all coach flyer, causing its derailment. The El Capitán inched into the Kansas City Chief on a parallel track. About 75 persons were injured.

Adrian Issues Bonds

ADRIAN.—(P)—Improvements in the Adrian sewage system, ordered by the Michigan water resources commission to halt pollution of the Raisin river, will be financed through sale of $700,000 worth of 30-year bonds, the city announced Friday. A 46 cent tax will be placed on municipal water bills to pay for the bonds.

Disgusted U. S. Troops Retreat; Planes Destroy 50 Red Tanks

(By The Associated Press)

North Korean invaders have captured the town of Chonan, 60 miles south of the fallen capital at Seoul, frontline dispatches reported today. It was the deepest Communist penetration yet into South Korea.

Disgusted American troops, cursing their lack of heavier artillery, tanks and covering planes, were forced to retreat several miles to the south. The retreat, for the most part, was orderly and there was no pursuit. An artillery battle raged overhead.

Before this news arrived, General MacArthur's headquarters in Tokyo announced that the North Korean offensive had been slowed down and that Communist forces were being regrouped for a new drive southward.

Foe Crosses River

A Tokyo communique reported between 40 and 50 Red tanks and heavy truck-drawn artillery in the main west coast battle zone and 40 to 50 tanks supported by more than 1,000 crossing the Angong river and heading toward Songhwan on the Southern front.

A concentration of northern troops and armor has been spotted from the air around Pyongyang and eastward to Wonsu. Intelligence reports indicate a steady building up of Communist forces on the east coast, also.

The communique followed earlier reports that ground fighting had been comparatively quiet during the last 24 hours. Both North and South troops were reported yesterday to have confined their activities to probing thrusts while the main opposing forces were regrouping along a not-too-well defined line.

American warplanes, however, were extremely active yesterday as the weather cleared.

Huge Tank Captured

A high American official at U. S. headquarters in Korea said American planes had knocked out as many as 40 Red tanks south of Suwon. But air force reports in Tokyo were more conservative, claiming only 20 as probably destroyed. General MacArthur said American troops had captured a mammoth 60-ton tank—the largest Russian-made tank yet seen in the Korean war.

South Korea's air force chief, Brig. Gen. Kim Chung, said his pilots, flying American-supplied Mustangs, knocked out two tanks.

One pilot, trained recently in Japan, blasted a Red tank Wednesday in a suicide crash-dive, Kim said.

The American-led air action met little opposition except from anti-aircraft fire. A veteran navy flier who led a carrier strike over North Korea July 3-4 told newsmen yesterday the Communists must be conserving their air power for desperation use. Cmdr. Harvey P. Lanham said the North Koreans had many planes neatly hidden away under netted revetments which could be discovered by low-level fliers on straining missions.

Casualties Near 250

General MacArthur's communique said two F-80 jet planes were lost—one probably by enemy ground fire and the other in a forced landing after running out of fuel.

MacArthur estimated American combat casualties to date at 249, of which 192 are missing. Many of the missing are expected to get back to the American lines later.

Port Huron Boy Found In River

ST. CLAIR, Mich.—(P)—The body of two-year-old Brian Marshall, who vanished without a trace from the Port Huron home of his wealthy foster parents May 1, was found floating in the St. Clair river here today.

Coroner Stewart S. Kipp said "all signs point to accidental drowning."

Positive identification of the blonde lad, who was once feared kidnapped was made by two friends of the family, Wilbur West and R. Dexter Burley.

The body was found by a St. Clair fisherman, Albert W. MacGregor, opposite the St. Clair Inn—about 10 miles downstream from the home of the boy's foster parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Erd Marshall.

Sgt. Harry Nelson of the state police said Brian's body was clothed in the blue snow suit he was wearing when he vanished more than two months ago.

Prospects Dim For Tax Slash

WASHINGTON.—(P)—The Korean crisis cast a deepening shadow today over prospects for any cut in excise taxes on the future.

President Truman's call yesterday for a boost in armed forces strength raised new indications that Congress would be ready to toss aside a House-passed bill slashing the so-called luxury taxes, if the President just gave the word.

The House bill would reduce the excises by $1,010,000,000 but would make up the tax loss in other ways, chiefly by a boost in the levies on big corporations. The measure is being considered by the Senate finance committee and is scheduled for final Senate action soon.

The bill would cut excise taxes on such items as furs, jewelry, cosmetics, movie tickets, luggage, and scores of others.

The taxes originally were imposed during World War II with a dual purpose: to raise revenue and to discourage production of goods not essential to the war effort.

The House bill would reduce

Wreck Of American Missionary Plane Spotted In Colombia

BOGOTA, Colombia.—(P)—A Colombian army searching party fought its way through the jungle today toward the wreck of a plane believed to be a U. S. missionary aircraft missing since June 9 with 15 Americans aboard.

Col. William H. Cleveland, chief of the U. S. Air Force mission here, said the plane, identified as a DC-3, was spotted Thursday from the air on a mountain peak 75 miles northwest of Barrancas.

The missing plane, belonging to the New Tribes Mission of Chico, Calif., was enroute from Miami, Fla., to Venezuela when it disappeared.

Rear Protected

TOKYO.—(P)—General MacArthur today moved to protect his military rear by authorizing the Japanese to add a 75,000 man reserve to their police force and 8,000 to their Coast Guard. It will bring Japan's total police force to 200,000 including 30,000 national police.

Limits Lifted On Military Forces Of U. S.

Pentagon May Not Need Inductions

By ELTON C. FAY
WASHINGTON.—(P)—President Truman dangled the draft law over the heads of reservists and prospective recruits today in an urgent effort to build up military manpower for the demands of the hot war in Korea.

The president gave the Pentagon power to draft men in a general order late yesterday designed to lift economy limits imposed on the Army, Navy, Marines and Air Force.

Hope To Get By

That the defense department hoped to get by, at least initially, without actually using the draft authority was evident in the comment of an official Army spokesman:

"If strengths are met without use of selective service, we'll be very happy."

No official would say how many men are wanted however, a comparison of the limits fixed by law against the present strength of the armed forces indicates that the figure could run as high as 547,482.

The officials of the armed forces who made public the White House order said that as far as they know there has been no decision yet to call up the National Guard or reservists.

But, they said, "we will welcome reserves with open arms." Mr. Truman had invited congressional leaders and key committee members of both parties to the White House before the Pentagon announcement to explain it to them.

Congress Approves

Generally, reaction in Congress to the president's momentous decision was highly favorable.

Republican Senator Saltonstall of Massachusetts, called it a "wise and necessary step." Senator Eastland (D-Miss) told reporters "the country must be prepared for any eventuality and no one can say where this thing will end." Senator Ferguson (R-Mich) and Senator Republican Leader Wherry of Nebraska both thought the decision indicated a longer Korean

New Harnischfeger Truck Crane Plant Addition Completed

Construction of a three-bay addition to the Harnischfeger corporation's truck crane plant here has been completed on schedule by the Austin company, Cleveland construction firm.

Baxter Mitchell, general manager of the Escanaba operations of Harnischfeger, said today that the moving of machinery and materials to the new section will start on Monday. The three bays are each 50 by 320 feet.

The new section of the plant will house the welder shop, storehouse and steel storage department.

About 200 men are employed in the truck crane plant.

The Harnischfeger corporation also has established its D-C welder plant in the Stephenson avenue site, formerly occupied by the Delta Furniture company. The portion of the building adjoins the A-C welder plant, located in the warehouse of the old Steel Wallace plant.

The Delta Furniture company has moved into a new building erected by the Escanaba Foundation, industrial promotion affiliate of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce. This building is located on the site of the old Cochran Roller Works plant, which was destroyed by fire last year.

Boat Licenses Are Required

All Motor Craft Subject To Law

The Michigan Department of Revenue is ticketing motor boats that do not possess a state boat license and their owners will be summoned to justice court, it has been announced.

All boats 16 feet in length or longer, powered with inboard motors, are subject to a licensing fee, the funds of which are used by the State Waterways Commission to assist in the development of local harbors. Federal matching funds are available to supplement the state revenue.

Only boats on the Great Lakes or connecting waters are subject to the licensing regulations.

Harry Nelson is the enforcement officer in Delta county and George Peterson is the enforcement officer in Schoolcraft, Alger and Luce counties.

Pres. Truman's Draft Statement Explained

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON—(AP)—This is an attempt to explain what President Truman said on the draft yesterday because a lot of men and their families may be uncertain about it.

Of course, since the world situation is changing, what is true today may not be true next month. No one can predict what changes a new week will bring and what the government will do then.

Two things the President did not say: (1) he did not say draft boards will start drafting men now; and (2) he did not say members of the reserve will be called for duty.

Volunteers First
What he did say, in effect, was this: the armed forces need a lot more men, maybe as much as 550,000 more. They want to get these men by the volunteer method, if possible.

If enough volunteers don't come forward, then the draft will start in order to make up the difference, but not till then. Just what kind of volunteers are needed?

The usual recruits, without military training; and—this needs to be emphasized—particularly veterans and members of the reserve who have had special training in special fields of military work.

(No draft is needed to call reserves to duty. Under the new draft law they can be called any time the President thinks they're needed. If enough volunteer, then the call may not be necessary.)

Who can be drafted? Only youths who have passed their 19th birthday but have not yet reached their 26th. This means: 19 through 25. No one younger or older can be drafted under present law.

To raise or lower the age limits, Congress would have to change the law. It could do so quickly, in an emergency, but there's no talk of doing that now. There's no indication it soon will be necessary.

Register at 18
Under present law every youth who reaches 18 must register with his local draft board although he can't be drafted until he's 19. An 18-year old could volunteer. So could a youth who's passed 17.

Seventeen is the youngest age for volunteering for service. Any one that young must have his parents' consent. Anyone 18 or older can volunteer without parental consent.

If drafting becomes necessary, anyone drafted under present law must serve 21 months. But suppose a man without military experience enlists. How much time must he serve?

In the Army—A minimum of three years; in the Navy—a minimum of four years; in the Marines—four years; in the Air Force—four years.

But what of veterans and members of the reserve? If they volunteer now, how long must they serve? Their period of enlistment varies according to the branch of the service they join.

If drafting starts, it will not be done by drawing numbers from a hat. Selective service headquarters here says draft boards will take first the men classified as 1A in the 25 to 26 age group.

(A man classified 1A is considered most eligible for the draft. For example: because he's physically fit and there's no other reason, such as dependents, to defer him.)

Then the boards will work their way down through 1A groups, from the 25-26 group, to the 24-25 group, and so on, taking the 19-year old in 1A last.

Authorized Two Million
This is an explanation of why the armed forces may want 550,000 volunteers:

Congress "authorized"—that is, approved—strength of 2,005,882 men for the armed services. But—

It figures on "appropriating"—that is, voting money for—only 1,506,600 men, or almost 500,000 less than "authorized."

The armed forces—compelled to stay within the "appropriated" strength of 1,506,600 men, since they wouldn't have money for more—actually have only about 1,458,400 in uniform.

So the actual present strength is 48,200 below the "appropriated" strength of 1,506,600 and 547,482 below the "authorized" strength of 2,005,882.

Yesterday Mr. Truman told the armed forces to bring their number up to the "authorized" strength, by the volunteer method, if possible.

But how can he do that if Congress figures on voting enough money for only the "appropriated" strength? Because we're getting more deeply involved in Korea, and Congress will vote the money, if necessary.

Playgrounds To Open On Monday

City Sponsors Full Summer Program

The Escanaba city recreation playground program, a full schedule of activities for the summer season, will open Monday, it was announced today by Art Petersen, acting director of the recreation department.

The playgrounds will be open from 9:30 a. m. to 8 p. m. Monday through Saturday. Children and adults will be welcome to participate in the program to be presented at Ludington Park, Webster playground, and Royce Park.

Many new crafts are scheduled this year, including basketry, tin can craft, flower making, leather work, etching, painting, and others.

Contests will be conducted on the playgrounds, with a point system used in rating the participants. At the end of the season the point scoring will reveal the outstanding boy and girl in all events. Special events also are planned as well as the following list of organized contests:

Dodge ball, line games such as pass ball, tag ball, steal the pin, steal the handkerchief, school, doggie-doggie, hot potato, fire on the mountain and others.

Leaders at Ludington Park will be Henry Wylie, Bertha LeChapell, Robert Dufour, Webster Park—Robert Grabowski, Mrs. J. LeCaptain; Royce Park, Miss Pat Frasher and Mrs. LeCaptain.

The leaders will be at the various parks on the following schedule:

Webster—Monday through Friday, 10 a. m. to noon, 1 to 4 p. m., and 6:30 to 8 p. m.; and on Saturday, 10 a. m. to noon, and 1 to 5 p. m.

Ludington—Monday through Friday, 10 a. m. to noon, 1 to 4 p. m., 6:30 to 8 p. m.; and on Saturday, 10 a. m. to noon, and 1 to 5 p. m.

Royce—Monday to Friday, 10 a. m. to noon, 1 to 4 p. m., and 6:30 to 8 p. m.

Schedule City Swim Classes

Registration Will Begin On Monday

Preparations are being made for the start of swimming classes at Escanaba municipal beach, with registration beginning Monday morning at 10 o'clock, it was announced today by Art Petersen, acting director of the city recreation department.

At registration each boy and girl will be told when to report for swimming classes. Classes should start no later than Wednesday, July 12, for beginners, intermediate and swimmer age groups.

Beginner Group
The beginning group will include boys and girls six years of age and older; intermediate starts at seven years; and swimmers at 12 years and over. Francis Lueneberg and Robert Paterek will instruct these groups.

The advanced swimmer group, 14 years of age and older; Junior Life Saving, 12 to 15 years; and Senior Life Saving, 16 and over, will be instructed by Art Petersen. These classes will begin July 17.

Petersen said that youngsters from the townships as well as the city are invited to participate in all of the classes. Last year some townships provided transportation for groups of swimmers to Escanaba for the classes and it is hoped this arrangement will be continued.

Classes At North Shore
The swimming classes will be held at the municipal beach on the north shore of Sand Point. The new beach on the south shore, where the bath house is under construction, will not be ready until later this summer.

A small fee will be charged this year to aid in defraying the cost of equipment to be used in the swimming classes.

Camp Harstad Opens Monday

Crippled Youngsters To Enjoy Summer

With the opening Monday of Camp Harstad on the bay shore at Ford River, about 25 crippled and handicapped children of the Escanaba area will begin a summer-time health and happiness program arranged by the crippled children's committee of the Escanaba Rotary club.

This is the second year the camp has been opened, but the first year that a full eight-week program is scheduled.

Community Project

The camp was built last year in a community effort, with members of organized labor, service clubs, and many individuals contributing toward the job of construction. The site for the building is on a fine sand beach off M-35, property donated for camp purposes by Ole Harstad of Bark River.

Camp staff personnel has not yet been completed for the season, but will include Mrs. Richard Knopp, director; Miss Joan Verne, Mrs. Stanley Johnson and Mrs. Fred Swanick, senior counselors; and the Misses Mary Alice Shepley, Nancy Pascal, Beverly Feldstein and Betty Nantell, junior counselors.

Will Transport Youngsters

Clarence Moore, physical therapist for Escanaba school system, will take over as director of the camp for the last half of the period. He is now attending summer school. The services of a young man as counselor also is sought.

The youngsters will be transported to and from camp by bus. A cook will prepare the noon meal for the children. During the day they will participate in a program of craft work and supervised recreation, including swimming that is helpful in aiding some cases in overcoming physical handicaps.

Since last year the interior of the camp has been finished in knotty pine, electric wiring has been completed, concrete walks and ramps constructed, and the entrance drive and turn-around gravelled. An electric water heater, stove, refrigerator, radio-phonograph and other equipment has been installed.

Television Will Bring Great Changes-Gessner

Television will be responsible for the greatest change in the character of American life since the invention of the automobile, says Robert Gessner, head of the motion picture department of New York university. Mr. Gessner, the son of Mrs. Herman Gessner of Escanaba, is visiting here this week.

Gessner, successful author of "Massacre" and "Some of My Best Friends are Jews," looks the part. Comfortably dressed in seersucker slacks, tie shirt and a beribboned tweed jacket, the pipe-smoking professor spoke easily and confidently on the pros and cons of television and its future role as a method of communication.

Keeps People at Home

Many cite that keeping people at home is one of the benefits of television. But, according to Gessner, when we analyze the situation we find that people are kept at home but not together. Television bans conversation much more than the radio because it is a visual means of communication as well as sound. The eye is the master of the five senses and while watching the video screen the art of conversation is reduced to grunts and groans and an occasional "sh-h" or "be quiet," he pointed out.

A New York survey has reported that children spend four hours at a time in front of a TV set and that the grades of even some of the best students have dropped to failures.

Television has the old forms of communication worried. It has been responsible for cutting down the reading of books and magazines and attendance at movie theaters.

"It is folly to inveigh against television because it is here to stay," said Mr. Gessner. It is the most powerful form of mass communication yet. In 1952 80 million Americans will witness the speeches of the presidential election on TV screens.

New Bridge Is Only M-35 Work

Span At Cedar River Planned By State

The only scheduled work by the state highway department on M-35 is the construction of a new bridge spanning Big Cedar River in Menominee county, according to the U. P. branch office of the department in Escanaba.

The department announced that it has no connection with clearing and grading at the end of M-35 pavement just south of the Ford River bridge. This work is on private property, not on highway right-of-way.

Bridge Plans Received

Plans for the proposed new bridge over the Big Cedar river have been received by Fred M. Walker, state highway bridge engineer at the U. P. branch office.

It is expected the state will advertise for bids for the project in late July or early August, with construction to be completed next year.

The bridge will be of steel and concrete construction, with a roadway 32 feet wide, and a three foot sidewalk on each side. Length of the bridge will total 350 feet, including abutments and approaches.

Bridge Has Priority

Completion of the new bridge will eliminate traffic hazards existing at the present crossing, including an old span with a narrow roadway, and reverse curves on the north side.

Several surveys have been made by the highway department on M-35 along the bay shore between Ford River and Menominee, but further paving is not expected to be undertaken for a year or more. Construction of the bridge was given priority over other work.

No Job Shortage For Mine Engineers

HOUGHTON—There's no job shortage for Michigan Tech's mining engineers, according to Professor J. Murray Riddell, head of the department of mining engineering at the Michigan College of Mining and Technology in Houghton. The 1950 crop of graduates in the field are all placed in jobs, Riddell states.

Michigan Tech granted about 600 bachelor of science degrees early in June; of the total, 27 were in mining engineering. A few of the graduates in the other fields of science and engineering are still beating the bushes. Several of them actually had a choice of several jobs.

From the time of its founding in 1885, until 1927 the Houghton institution was almost exclusively a mining college. During the last quarter-century, however, the program has expanded and broadened. At the present time, B. S. degrees in fifteen fields of engineering and science are granted. Largest group in the 1950 class was the mechanical engineering graduates—158 of them.

Delor Wellman Held For Circuit Court

Delor Wellman, 20, of Bark River township, is held in jail in Menominee in default of $1,000 for arraignment in circuit court there on a charge of breaking and entering the Elder Daniel Newman place two miles south of the Delta-Menominee county line on M-35.

Sheriff William E. Miron arrested Wellman and recovered an outboard motor, field glasses, and other property owned by Newman. Yesterday the sheriff recovered wrenches, hammers and other property allegedly stolen by Wellman from Nels Larson of Ford River township.

Has Visited Escanaba

McDonald, incidentally, has a summer home at Mackinac Island and has visited Escanaba several times with his yacht, "Mizpah."

"Hollywood is more afraid of McDonald than any other one man," said Gessner. McDonald has gotten many second and third rate films from independent producers. J. Arthur Rank has released 50 films to WPIX, a television station in New York City.

Gessner says that it is the hope of the motion picture industry to have special TV programs awarded exclusively to them to be shown in movie theaters. This exclusive holding by the movie industry of such events as the World Series would force the public to leave their houses and go to the theaters for special programs.

"The theater, as we know it, is doomed. The theater comes into the living room," concluded Prof. Gessner.

Kirby Contract Suit Is Heard

Harris Landowner Sued By Budinger

A suit for $8,726 damages alleging breach of a Harris township timber contract was heard Friday before Judge Glenn W. Jackson in a special term of Menominee circuit court. The Northern Maple company of Gladstone, owned by Robert F. Budinger, is plaintiff in the suit against Dr. Robert Kirby of Harris township, owner of the timber involved.

Budinger and his son, Robert Budinger, Jr., testified they entered into a contract with Dr. Kirby in 1949 under which he agreed to sell them 1,000,000 feet of maple timber for $35,000. Terms of the contract, they said, provided for a down payment of $5,000, which they made, and payment of $100 per 1,000 feet as the timber was being cut to apply against the $35,000 purchase price.

They cut about 15,000 feet of timber for which they paid $1,500, in addition to the $5,000, when Dr. Kirby terminated the agreement and ordered their logging crew off his premises. Last February, they testified, a supplemental contract was signed but this, too, was terminated by Dr. Kirby three days later when the Budinger crew moved in to resume timber cutting.

Contract Terminated

The Budingers testified they manufactured bowling pins, for which only the best maple is used. They described the Kirby holdings as one of the finest stands of timber in the U. P. forest of the second termination of the contract, which was affirmed by a letter written by Dr. Kirby to Budinger eight days after the crew was ordered to stop cutting, was that Budinger had to purchase maple from Wisconsin, Budinger said.

He explained the timber had to be kiln-dried at his Gladstone plant before manufacture into bowling pins. He declared his business was seasonal as bowling alleys demand delivery on pins in late summer before the bowling season starts.

In his suit, Budinger asks reimbursement of the $5,000 down payment; $2,500 in loss of profits caused by necessity to buy timber elsewhere; $1,000 for timber cut the first day of the second contract, which was left on the grounds; and $226 in miscellaneous expenses.

While both sides concede the $5,000 down payment was made, there was disagreement as to what the Budingers might claim as loss of profits, etc. Just before the noon recess Judge Jackson indicated evidence in that connection was not conclusive and attorneys planned a conference this afternoon before the court session resumed.

Dr. Kirby Testifies

On the stand in his defense, Dr. Kirby denied charges of breach of contract. He said he ordered the cutting stopped under the first (1949) contract because it provided he was to be notified when cutting was to start and this was not done. He said he did not order the crew off the premises when cutting was resumed under the 1950 supplemental contract.

As for reimbursing the $5,000 down payment, Dr. Kirby contended he had that and more due him from the Budingers in damages he suffered when they went elsewhere to buy timber which, he said, they should have bought from him. Dr. Kirby was on the stand when court recessed at noon.

Now 85 years old, Dr. Kirby has lived in Harris township since 1889 and owns 280 acres of the finest timber in the state. Referring to the maple involved in the suit, he said there was little of like quality left anywhere. He said he did some reforestation in 1904 but estimated it would take another 100 years "and then some" for his planted maples to grow into the kind now standing on his property.

U. S. And Britain Must Join Forces In Asia

By MARQUIS CHILDS
WASHINGTON — A headline that might have seemed innocent enough to the ordinary reader sent temperatures soaring in the Pentagon in spite of the excellent air cooling system. That headline illustrates one of the danger points of the spreading war in Korea.

It was based on a story out of Hong Kong reporting the belief of a "diplomatic observer" that the Soviet Union was preparing a surprise blow "against the United States." This obviously came from someone of high authority and, in the Pentagon it was assumed that it came from a British official of that British colony.

What caused the indignation in the Pentagon was the assumption that the new blow was to be aimed not at the United Nations, not at the Western Powers, including Great Britain, but at America alone. It underscored the latent fear that the Korean war will become an American war with all the fighting left to American troops.

Pentagon officials pointed out that the British do have troops stationed in Hong Kong, and those troops could be quickly dispatched to Korea. Or, at any rate, token troops could be sent so that the international nature of the effort to repel the Communist invasion could be made clear to the world.

British Want Trade

All this illustrates the ticklish and difficult position of the Western powers in Asia. The British have been clinging to their toe hold in Hong Kong with the hope that some of their former trade with the great land mass of China could eventually be restored. Naturally they would also like to keep their rich trading colony of Hong Kong as long as possible.

That was one reason they offered recognition to the Chinese Communist government of Mao Tse-Tung. That offer has been ignored by the Red regime, leaving the British in a somewhat embarrassing, hat-in-hand stance on the doorstep.

The impending blow predicted by the diplomatic observer in Hong Kong was the movement of Chinese Communist troops into North Korea where they would join Korean Communists in fighting American troops. The Chinese would have to move only a few hundred miles across a land frontier. By contrast, American troops in any numbers must be moved thousands of miles across the Pacific.

For the United States it could prove the kind of costly, wasting, long drawn out operation that military men dread. Chinese troops, with years of guerrilla experience in China's civil war, are available by the millions. With Russian arms they could prolong the Korean war indefinitely, at a heavy cost to America in blood and treasure.

This may help to explain why Pentagon tempers soared at the intimation that the United States alone would carry the burden. It happens, of course, that planes from the British aircraft carrier Triumph were participating with American planes from the Valley Forge in a strike on the Korean capital of Pyongyang, according to a headline on the same front page.

Small Force In Hong Kong

This is in accord with the commitment made by the British to support the U. N. resolution on Communist aggression in South Korea. The number of British troops in Hong Kong is believed to be small, and the British say they are necessary to keep order.

That necessity would be very great if Communist China were to use British participation in the Korean "episode" as an excuse to try to grab Hong Kong. It could happen. Some of the best informed observers here believe it is likely to happen.

In view of the extremely dangerous position of the Western powers in the Pacific, with their resources of strength stretched almost to the breaking point, two points should be kept constantly in mind. First, it must never be lost sight of that this is a United Nations effort, and each country supporting the resolution should have some part in the effort. Not nearly enough has been done to make world opinion aware of that fact.

Second, the differences between America and Great Britain over Red China should be frankly recognized, and reconciled with all honesty and realism. To do less than that will merely permit the deterioration of relations with an all-important ally. Already there have been rumors from London of a revolt in the Labor party among those who feel the U. N. action on Korea was taken illegally. The free world today must stand together with all possible unity if it is to save itself.

Death Sentence For Sex Murder Wins Approval

By ROBERT C. RUARK
NEW YORK — The past 12 months have been horribly splashed with crimes of perversion and psychic irresponsibility, encouraged undoubtedly by the past tendency to treat the criminal as "ill" rather than wrong; by ignoring the innocent victim and alibiing the motives of the offender in terms of scrambled emotions.

The past few months, though, have witnessed a reaction. The older, near-maudlin "sympathy" for the culprit, who obeys an ungovernable impulse because of a frustration or abnormality has been replaced by angry resentment and a realization that some heavy steps toward deterrent must be taken. This is graphically illustrated by the handling of the John Saiu case, for which Judge Samuel Joseph of the Bronx county court must be applauded, and a blue-ribbon jury commended.

Saiu was a wanderer with a long history of sex offenses, prowling, burglary and indecent assault—undoubtedly a man of pitiful complexes. He sexually assaulted eight-year-old Jack Goldsmith and then strangled the little boy with his belt. This being a completely wanton, senseless murder, you would expect the ordinary decision of "criminally insane" and a sentence to the asylum, where a miraculous recovery might be achieved, in time, and the killer freed to indulge his whimsies elsewhere.

Ruthless Murder

But the judge and jury just didn't see it that way at all. The jury was out 20 minutes and came back with a verdict of first-degree murder. Judge Joseph pronounced a death sentence coldly and with justifiable harshness. He even went so far as to omit the customary "and may God have mercy upon your soul."

The judge, before sentence, read aloud the prisoner's lengthy record of patterned crimes.

Then the judge, staring at the prisoner, said deliberately: "This was a ruthless, sex-perverted killing. And this is not only for you, John Saiu, but for all the other John Saius who must be made to realize what happens here today."

RUARK

Death Sentence For Sex Murder Wins Approval

You have run the gamut of crime in many states, and it was only natural that you should wind up committing a murder."

The defense attorney made a routine motion to stay the execution, set for August, on the grounds "that defense now contends that the defendant is insane." Judge Joseph refused to allow the motion.

Parents Were Realistic

The parents of the slain child were pathetically realistic in their statement.

"We have no further interest in this man as long as he is kept away from other children," the little boy's mother said. "Whether he lives or dies makes no difference to us; we cannot have our Jackie back again."

This seems to me to be the synthesis of the vast flood of stupid assaults and wanton murders that have crowded our front pages in recent years. The victim is gone, and cannot return. The problem then is to assure, by harsh action, that at least one offender will be prevented from repeating the offense, and that others like him will take warning from his example.

The drooling creeps who shape their activities according to precedent set by their fellows may be slightly less eager to gratify their abnormalities or free their frustrations by carving up a neighborhood if Judge Joseph's approach to the Saiu case is repeated as other similar murderers come to trial.

As I have said before, the Saius of the world are pathetic, twisted, tortured people, but the lives of all the Saius are not worth the death of one Jackie Goldsmith or the tears of Jackie Goldsmith's parents. I believe that Judge Joseph's sternly realistic approach to the Saiu case will set a trend of deterrent, and for this he should be praised by every parent in the nation.

The Columbus

Well-Planned Modern Ranch House

Rooms Five
Bedrooms Two
Closets Nine
Cubage 28,000
Dimensions 50' x 27'

The long one-story building, the broken roof line, and the picture windows flanked by Hollywood casement windows, give a modern appearance to the house.

The dining porch, which can be closed in; the two textured sidewalls, the garage roof ridge at right angles to the main roof ridge, and the square windows in the lavette and garage door, also add to the modern appearance of "The Columbus."

Containing five rooms, including two bedrooms, "The Columbus" has nine closets. The house is 50' x 27' in dimensions and has a cubic footage of 28,000 feet. A 70' minimum lot is required but a larger plot should be acquired, if possible, in order to avoid a crowded appearance.

Over-all charms of the house are greatly enhanced by the combination cut stone and clapboard sidewalls. Because "The Columbus" is a one-story building, the man of the house can easily take care of painting and minor repair jobs; he'll also find it easy to install or take down storm windows and screens.

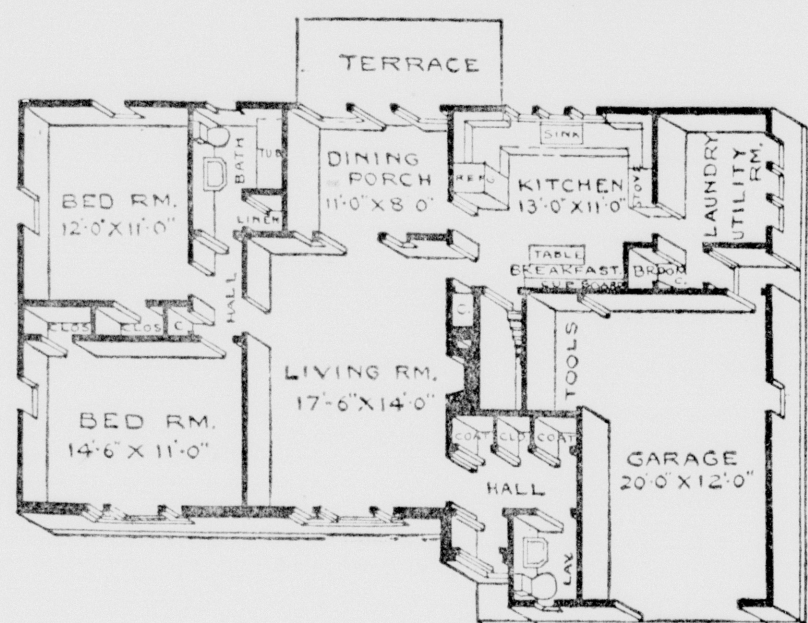

The projection made by the overhanging roof provides shelter for the modern glazed front door which opens into the entry hallway. Glass panels in the front door provide light for this hallway. There are three coat closets conveniently located at the end of this hallway. The lavette, also at the end of this hall, is handy for visitors who want to "freshen-up."

A modern flush mantel fireplace is located on the inside wall of the spacious living room which measures 17'6" x 14'. A door beyond the fireplace leads to the kitchen. Ample light and ventilation is provided by the picture window in the front wall. The dining porch is visible at the rear of the living room through French doors, flanked by glass blocks. If the porch is to be enclosed, however, an archway could be used to separate the two rooms.

Dining Porch
Measuring 11' x 8', the dining porch, if enclosed, should have a door leading to the terrace. Picture windows, flanking this door, would further enhance the appearance of the porch and permit you to more fully enjoy and utilize the view from this section of the house. The other door from the dining porch leads directly into the kitchen.

In the sidewall of the living room, opposite the fireplace, is a door opening on a short hallway that separates the sleeping quarters from the rest of the house. At the further end of this hall is the bathroom which contains a good sized linen closet. Next to the bathroom is the back bedroom which is 12' x 11' in dimensions. The master bedroom, 14'6" x 11', is located at the front of the house.

Boasting a large picture window, flanked by casement windows, the master bedroom is an exceptionally lovely room. An- other window, in the side wall provides additional light and good cross ventilation. There is ample wall space for arranging large furniture pieces and the room contains a large closet on the inside wall.

Another closet is conveniently placed in the hall just outside the bedroom door.

Two windows in the back bedroom provide light and cross ventilation. Located in the center of the front inside wall, the closet in this room is in line with the hall master bedroom closets.

The kitchen and laundry utility room are located on the other side of the house. A closet back to the fireplace, is next to the door to the living room; the cellar stairs are just beyond.

U-Shaped Kitchen

There is a U-shaped counter in the 13' x 11' kitchen with the refrigerator located at one end of the counter, near the dining room door. The stove is at the other end of the arm. Centered beneath triple windows in the back wall, the sink divides the counter. Along the front wall is an excellent location for the breakfast nook with its overhead cupboards.

Next to the stove is the door to the laundry-utility room which is well lighted by three windows in the side wall. A passageway in the front wall of this room provides access to the broom closet, the garage and the side door. Measuring 20' x 12', the garage has a large tool space at the side, while a side window provides plenty of light and ventilation.

In the full cement cellar the heating system should be placed beneath the living room; the rest of the area can be partitioned off to suit the owner's desires. Since laundry facilities are provided on the ground floor of the house, the builder could easily have full basement excavation under only the central portion of the house, if he so desires.

Plans Available

Complete plans and specifications for "The Columbus," or any other homes in this series, are available at moderate cost. To ascertain the exact price of these documents, write to the Home Building Editor, Dept. 15 Daily Press and enclose a self-addressed envelope bearing a three cent stamp. At least one week should be allowed for reply.

Play Court Is Obtained
By Widening Driveway

Simply by widening your driveway at the side of the house or in the back yard near the garage, a play court for paddle tennis, basketball, shuffleboard can be made and marked off, the Portland Cement Association suggests.

A concrete surface requires little or no maintenance.

MONEY DRIPS AWAY

If a faucet drips 60 drops a minute, it adds up to 2299 gallons of water wasted a year.

Theresa LaFave
Laurence Boudreau
Married Today

In a double ring ceremony performed by Father Clifford Nadeau at St. Joseph's church at 9 this morning Miss Theresa Gertrude LaFave, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin LaFave, 316 South 8th street, became the bride of Laurence J. Boudreau, son of Mr. and Mrs. Adolphe Boudreau, sr.

Gladioli and peonies were arranged with the altar candles for the service.

In the bridal party were Miss Violet Boudreau who was maid of honor, Mrs. Raymond Boudreau and Miss Betty Van Meighan, bridesmaids, Ralph LaFave who was Mr. Boudreau's best man, Sally Norlin and Catherine Kang, the flower girls, and Kenneth Boudreau, who was ring bearer.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore traditional white satin, her gown styled with a long train. Her veil of bridal illusion was caught to a tiara of seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of pink and white roses.

The bride's aides wore pastel shades of pink, blue and yellow with matching headresses and they carried colonial bouquets of pink and white roses. The little flower girls' frocks were pink and blue and their flowers were miniature colonial bouquets. Kenneth, who wore a white suit, carried the rings on a white satin pillow.

Mrs. LaFave attended her daughter's wedding in a floral print, with grey background and Mrs. Boudreau also wore a floral print. Pink roses and gladioli formed their shoulder bouquets.

The wedding breakfast was served at the bride's home and a wedding dinner at the home of the bridegroom's parents. The reception for 100 guests is being held at both homes. The tiered wedding cake and flowers in shades of the bridal party formed the decorations.

Laymen To Attend
Annual Retreat
At Camp Plagens

MARQUETTE—Registrations for the 9th annual Upper Peninsula laymen's retreat are coming in daily, the diocesan director, Fr. Spelgatti, reported here this week. "None, however, seem interested in the July 14-16 and the July 28-30 dates," he stated.

These two sessions have been scheduled in order to give Upper Michigan men an opportunity to make a retreat sometime this season. In the past many men have been unable to make a retreat because of conflicting schedules. The annual U. P. State Fair has occupied the attention of many members of the association these past few years, Fr. Spelgatti stated. The extra sessions at Camp Plagens now make it possible for them and many new members to take advantage of the retreat opportunities, he continued.

Semi-private room facilities for the first 40 men registering are being offered at the July sessions. A "Techny" Father will give the conferences for 40 or for 10. Registrations may be made with the parish priest or by writing direct to the office of the director, locker drawer 538, Marquette.

Seven Local Children At Bay Cliff Camp

Seven Schoolcraft county children, six of them from Manistique, were taken to the Bay Cliff Health Camp, near Big Bay, Marquette County, last week.

The children are Lee Gould, Dale Russell, James Miller, James Jensen, Patsy LaPorte, John Pat Miller, all of Manistique, and Clifford Demers of Cooks.

The children were taken to the health camp by Mrs. Frank Arrowood, Mrs. J. Joseph Herbert and Miss Pauline Carstensen.

Mrs. Arrowood, who is chairman of the Schoolcraft county lay health committee, reported that she has presented the health camp with $200 on behalf of Schoolcraft county. The funds came from the sale of Easter Seals here and are this country's first contribution to the camp.

Cost of transporting the children to the camp was paid by the Manistique Rotary club.

Children stay at the camp for six weeks or until August 6. Three Manistique residents are counselors at the camp. They are Miss Helmi Bakka and Mr. and Mrs. Roger Eisenbraut.

Rev. H. Wilson,
St. Albans Vicar,
Moves To Detroit

The Rev. and Mrs. Herbert A. Wilson left today for Detroit where they will make their home. Rev. Wilson, who for the past four years has served as vicar of St. Albans's Episcopal church, will be associated with St. Paul's Cathedral at Detroit.

Until a new vicar is assigned in Manistique a Rev. Anderson, who is a summer guest at Indian lake, will serve. A new vicar will be assigned in September.

The following article concerning Rev. Wilson appeared in a recent issue of "The Church in Hiawathaland," published by the diocese of Northern Michigan:

"The resignation of the Rev. Herbert A. Wilson as minister-in-charge of St. Albans, Manistique, and the church in Nahma has been announced. Due to advancing years, he has found it wise to give up the strenuous work involved in caring for missions, with the attendant travel in all kinds of weather, so has gone on the retired list. This does not mean that he will become completely inactive, as according to his present plans, he will do part-time work in St. Paul's Cathedral in Detroit, where he will assist Canon Pastor Edward R. A. Green. In a sense this will seem as returning home for many years the Rev. Mr. Wilson served in that city. He served as chaplain in several institutions at the time he offered to come up to northern Michigan, so that his coming involved a sacrifice in salary of over $1000 per year to help us out," it was stated by Bishop Page.

"During the years of his stay in Manistique, the Rev. Mr. Wilson has carried on a most active ministry. He was a member of the Ministerial association, he broadcast regularly, in addition to stressing the pastoral side of his work St. Albans has put in a new furnace and completely redecorated the parish rooms under the church. In addition, it now has a flourishing men's club.

"Northern Michigan hates to see him go, but realizes the great physical strain under which he and his wife have worked," Bishop Page said. "Also, we know that it will mean much to both of them to move nearer to their children, who now live near Detroit."

"Taste Of Prison Life" Given Two Munising Youths

Declaring that their records were "not so good," Judge Herbert W. Rannels said that he saw little else to do but sentence two Munising youths, James Ross and Ealdus Pool, to the penitentiary. This he did in circuit court Friday afternoon.

The two, some time ago, had pleaded guilty to a charge of stealing a radio from a car belonging to Everett Cookson. It was also revealed that Ross was on probation at Delta county and Pool at Marquette county, both for theft.

The judge stated that repeated convictions would land both defendants in prison for long terms. For that reason he said, he was sentencing them to a year each in the penitentiary at Marquette "just to see if you care to spend the rest of your days there."

Harbor Soon To Be Dredged By Government Crew

According to an announcement received by William H. Frederick, executive secretary of the Top O' Lake Michigan Chamber of Commerce, the Hopper Dredge Hains is scheduled to do some maintenance work in Manistique about July 16 to 24. The information was forwarded here by Congressman Charles E. Potter.

Potter also said in his message to the chamber of commerce: "During the season of 1951 we plan to restore the west pier at the channel entrance at a cost of about $150,000. This is included in our planned maintenance, subject to availability of funds."

Boy Hit By Auto Escapes Lightly

9-Year-Old Rides Tiny Car Into Traffic Lane

Charles Trygg, 9-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Trygg, North Tenth street, had a narrow escape from serious injury when his tiny 'soap box derby' auto was struck by a car when he scooted down a driveway incline into the traffic lane on Highway US 2-41 about noon Friday.

Alertness on the part of the driver, Bertil (Barney) Froberg of the Michigan State Police, Lansing, who is vacationing here at the home of his father, August Froberg, just a few doors away from where the accident occurred, undoubtedly saved the youngster.

Examination by a physician revealed his injuries were not serious, he had sustained a torn heel and a few cuts and bruises. The auto stopped within a few feet and did not run over the child.

The tiny auto upon which the youth was riding was demolished.

Couple Observes Golden Wedding

Clifford Morands Wed July 7, 1900

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Morand, 321 Wisconsin avenue, residents of Perkins for almost a half century, yesterday quietly celebrated their golden wedding anniversary.

Most of the day was spent at home where many friends dropped in to congratulate the couple. In the evening there was a family dinner at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Russell Kent, 305 S. Sixteenth street, Escanaba. Clifford Morand and Laura Bunno were united in marriage on July 7, 1900 in St. Mary's Catholic church at Tomahawk, Wis., the Rev. Fr. P. S. Dagnault offering the nuptial mass.

In 1902 the family came to Perkins, Mr. Morand jobbing in that area for the Buckeye for ten years. He then settled on a farm which he operated until three years ago when he and Mrs. Morand came to Gladstone to reside.

Mr. Morand was born in Quebec, Canada March 25, 1874, while Mrs. Morand was born at Schaffers Sept. 10, 1893. They have two daughters, Mrs. Clarence Royer, Gladstone, and Mrs. Kent of Escanaba. There are also 7 grandchildren.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Morand are in fair health considering their age.

Educators Bar Reds On Roster

ST. LOUIS—(AP)—The National Education Association, the nation's largest professional organization with some 450,000 members, has decided to bar Communists from membership.

The action was taken at the concluding session of a five-day convention yesterday by "an almost unanimous vote." Officers of the association refused to disclose exact figures on the secret ballot.

In an amendment to its by-laws, the teachers' organization banned Communists or members of "any organization that advocates changing the form of government of the United States by any means not provided in the constitution of the United States."

The New York Teachers Union, Local 555, earlier withdrew from NEA, protesting the proposed change in by-laws as an attack on academic freedom.

The association also opposed federal aid to parochial schools.

During the convention here, Negro delegates were housed in private homes or Negro hotels. Most St. Louis restaurants do not serve Negroes.

Free Hand Given Gen. MacArthur To Squelch Reds

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Truman today named Gen. Douglas MacArthur as commanding general of the United Nations forces in Korea.

By FRANCIS W. CARPENTER
LAKE SUCCESS — (AP) — The United Nations gave Gen. Douglas MacArthur and the United States government a free hand yesterday to fight the U. N. war against Communist North Korea as agents of the world government.

Having approved the American efforts and opened the way for MacArthur to become supreme campaign than had been expected. The brief announcement, made to a room packed with reporters yesterday, brought a dramatic end to administration silence over its plans for beginning manpower mobilization.

Limits Lifted On Military Forces Of U. S.

The silence had persisted since the United States stepped into the Korean war on June 27, even while the battle was going against the first U. S. units which entered the fight.

Volunteers Invited

The announcement said: "To meet the situation in Korea, upon recommendation of the joint chiefs of staff, concurred in by the secretaries of Army, Navy and Air, and with the approval of the president, the Army and Navy and Air Force have been authorized to exceed the over-all ceilings for military personnel."

"This action constitutes a first step to build up to a full operating strength the units of the Army, Navy and Air Force to be used in the Korean operation, to provide further maintenance and support therefor, and to replace units to be moved to Korea."

"The use of selective service has been authorized. Voluntary enlistments also will be accepted."

The general impression was that this "first step" was taken to spur the return to active duty of as many reservists as the services need—at the outset officers and technicians—and to boost recruiting.

The second step, if and when it is needed, would be to start draft calls.

A third step apparently would be to call into federal service the National Guard and the organized reserve units.

The selective service system in a precautionary step, instructed its boards to hire such clerical help as they might need. A spokesman said "we're ready."

The present draft act is really a 15-day interim law tiding over until tomorrow a 1948 law which expired June 24.

A regular one-year extension of the draft act becomes effective Sunday. Under it, all males must register upon becoming 18. Those who have reached 19 and are not yet 26 may be drafted (with certain groups exempted.) They can be kept in service 21 months. National Guardsmen and reserves can be called for 2 months.

All four of the armed services want to bring in reservists fitted with special skills for operating complex war tools like radar and fire control. But the army's need goes beyond the requirement for specialists. It also needs just plain soldiers.

The Army's present strength is about 596,000. Even before the outbreak of the Korean fighting, it has been having difficulty keeping up to its desired strength. Monthly new enlistments were running about 60 per cent of what the army hoped for. Reenlistment rates were roughly the same.

From the end of World War II to January, 1949, when all draft calls were dropped, only the Army used selective service to help fill its ranks. It is assumed that should drafting be restarted under the new authority, the Army would be the first to use it.

Pleven Patches French Cabinet

By CARL HARTMAN
PARIS—(AP)—Rightist defense minister Rene Pleven started the complex job today of piecing together a new French cabinet as France's latest government crisis entered its third week.

To be successful Pleven needs the backing of three main groups—right-of-center radical Socialists, former Premier Georges Bidault's pro-Catholic popular Republican movement (MRP) and the Socialists.

The 49-year-old Pleven is a member of the Democratic and Socialist Union of the Resistance (UDSR), a small political group allied with the radicals.

Mollet's program includes higher wages and pensions, a new government building and expansion program, easier credit, a new election law in October and constitutional changes to promote government stability.

National forces fighting the Red Koreans were authorized to fly the blue and white U. N. flag. An American spokesman said U. S. forces certainly would display it alongside the stars and stripes.

Some nations, with constitutional or other objections may fight only under their own flags.

Egypt, India and Yugoslavia abstained from the vote on the United Nations resolution, the Soviet Union, boycotting the council on the Chinese representation issue and assailing its decisions on Korea as illegal, was absent. The United States, France, Britain, Nationalist China, Ecuador, Cuba and Norway endorsed the resolution.

Grand Marais

July 4 Celebration
GRAND MARAIS—Grand Marais streets were bedecked with appropriate Fourth of July decorations this year for the first time in its history. The decorations were purchased by contributions from the residents of the community and the Chamber of Commerce.

They arrived July 3 and the men of the town put them up on display in preparation for the big day. The main street flaunted hanging banners of red, white and blue and each street lamp post from the post office to the VFW cottage was trimmed with a long flag-stripe banner.

The July 4th program opened at 10 with the parade led by the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the VFW Auxiliary marching in formation, followed by the Gold Star mothers car, band, bicycles and various floats sponsored by the business and civic organizations. First prize for floats went to the Grand Marais Woman's club float with its motto, "Peace Is Our Queen."

Various races for men, women and children followed with the annual tug of war, East town versus West town.

Grand Marais defeated Germantown in the afternoon ball game. In the evening people on foot and in cars lined the banks on the bay shore to watch in turn the boat races, fireworks display and the water carnival. Part of the program, however, was somewhat hampered by the dense fog. The dance at the VFW cottage closed the day's activities.

Negligence Blamed In Detroit Gas Blast Fatal To 2 Children

DETROIT — (AP) — A coroner's jury blamed a construction crew's "ordinary negligence" yesterday for a gas explosion that wrecked a home and killed two children May 29.

The jury returned a verdict against the A. L. Davidson Construction Co. of Lansing.

The verdict of "ordinary negligence" however, does not involve a criminal charge.

Employees of the firm were found negligent in pulling an 80-ton derrick over a sidewalk adjacent to the home and causing a gas main to break.

The blast demolished the home of Stanley Gatin. The two children were found dead in the ruins. The construction company was at work at the time on the Edsel Ford expressway.
